

NEXT-GEN AESTHETICS IS HERE

Turns out, "aging gracefully" got a modern makeover.

How Gen Z and Millennials are rewriting the rules of beauty.

Prevention Over Perfection: What's Shaping the Next Generation of Aesthetics

A recent Forbes article spotlights how Gen Z and Millennials are rewriting the rules of beauty – and honestly, we're here for it.

Whether you're already a fan of aesthetic injectables or just starting to explore treatment options, this generation is changing how everyone thinks about beauty.

"The focus is on prevention, balance, and authenticity," says Dr. Lichten. "Of course, that's been a core philosophy of our practice for the past 20 years and what makes our approach different. It's not about freezing time – it's about helping you look like yourself, just a little more rested and refreshed.”

Here's a quick recap of the Forbes findings:

- Gen Z: They're all about prevention over perfection. Botox isn't a fix; it's a flex. Think of it as skincare's smarter big sister.
- Millennials: They're over the filters. They want real, natural, still-me results from providers who listen – not lecture.
- ♥ Everyone: Wants to look refreshed, not re-done or overdone. They want to trust the hands (and heart) behind every injection.

At COPS, we want you to know that every treatment starts with a real conversation about your goals, your lifestyle, and how we can help you feel your best, inside and out.

Cold Weather, Warm
Glow

When the temps drop, your skin's moisture levels usually do, too. That post-facial radiance you love can fade faster if your routine isn't winter-ready.

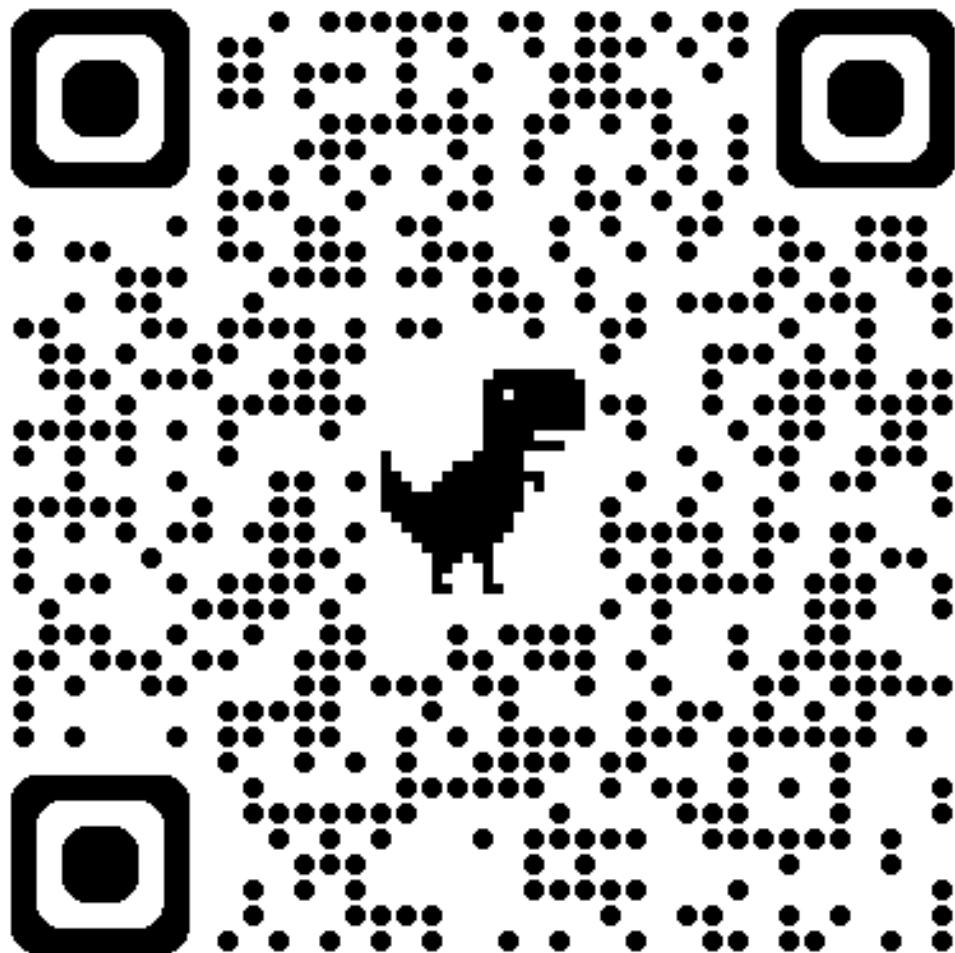

Our quick tip: switch to a gentler cleanser, skip alcohol-based toners, and layer in a rich moisturizer or serum with hyaluronic acid or ceramides to lock in hydration.

It's a simple way to keep your glow going long after your appointment.
